Although CRYP's staff and volunteers are already hard at work on the 2015 Christmas Toy Drive, they are keeping one eye firmly planted on the new year's signature programs. To that end, the youth project has officially set a date for the 2016 Passion for Fashion program. The big day: Saturday, March 12.

Passion for Fashion is one of CRYP's longest-running and most popular teen programs. The annual event, created in 2001, provides support for teens who need all the prom essentials. It also promotes intergenerational exchange, improved self-esteem and positive body image, and it helps combat bullying and school violence by giving girls from all social circles a chance to spend quality time together.

This past spring, CRYP made sure that 155 teens were able to attend their high school proms wearing dresses, shoes, jewelry and other accessories they selected at the Cokata Wiconi teen center through this long-running, much-loved program. And for the 44 girls who were able to participate in the special Passion for Fashion event itself, the experience went far beyond selecting just the right prom look.

These young women enjoyed a luncheon, a keynote speaker, spa-style pampering, shopping, a real catwalk fashion show and a photoshoot. They also got to travel back in time; the 2015 Passion for Fashion theme was "Glamour and Graffiti"/

We'll keep you posted on the 2016 theme, and donations of new or gently used dresses, shoes, jewelry and other accessories are accepted throughout the year.
